Forecast For Northern Ireland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Sunday 04 Apr 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Mainly dry and bright, a little rain later. Colder tonight.

Today:
Low cloud, mist or fog in the south lifting and breaking to allow some sunny spells to develop, though the north coast may stay cloudy, with some light rain developing later in the day. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Tonight:
A band of rain will move south across the province this evening followed by some clear intervals, though turning much colder with a few light snow showers following tonight. Minimum temperature -2 deg C (28 deg F).

Monday:
A bright but cold day with a mixture of sunny intervals and occasional wintry showers of hail or snow. Maximum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
WIntry showers on Tuesday, perhaps turning more to rain.for a time. Wednesday starting dry and bright then some rain later. Thursday breezy with some showers.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.